

JUDY ELLIOTT

Judi Elliott has been working with architecture as her inspiration for many years. Elliott finds that each building or wall that one encounters in life is embedded with the lives of the people who inhabited them.

Glass is a challenging material to work with, as it already has a presence of its own.

Elliott says, "I work and exhibit glass constantly, more it would seem, overseas. My work is kiln formed and sculptural. My inspiration is "the house" and all things architectural."
